Actor Bio:

Gail is a member of AEA (Actors Equity Association) and currently serves on the Dallas-Fort Worth SAG AFTRA board. She has been honored by the USA Film Fest for her work on screen and has received numerous awards and nominations for her work onstage. Highlights include playing Emelia to Morgan Freeman's Othello and starring (as Richard!) in Judith Shakespeare Company's off-Broadway production of Richard III and as Macduff in the all-women A Macbeth at DTC. Gail is passionate about guiding and supporting emerging artists and promoting the power and importance of language. She is an activist and extreme recycler. Gail is the proud mother of choreographer Adam Houglund and teacher/artist Noah Houglund.
