Actor Bio:

Larry Herron grew up in and around Kalamazoo, Michigan. After graduating from Mattawan High School, he began working as a morning show host at a local radio station. His role on "The Morning After with John Jay" on ROCK 107WIRX was that of a stunt guy. His main job was to interact and improv with various listeners as they usually didn't know they were on the air. Larry left the morning show in 2003 to focus on his studies at Western Michigan University.

In 2005, Herron graduated from WMU with a Bachelor's degree in Theater Performance. He was accepted to Harvard, Yale and Brown for their Masters programs in acting, but Herron decided to attend UC-San Diego. After graduating with his MFA in 2008, Herron moved to Los Angeles where he works alongside his outstanding team at Schachter Entertainment.
