Actor Bio:

Lisa Michelle Axelrod is best known for her roles in blockbuster action adventure films and music videos of the 1980's. Her career was cut short after a tragic accident a month before her college graduation and the premiere of MGM's "Roadhouse". While in recovery, her fiancé passed away from pancreatic cancer compelling Lisa to take a hiatus, spiritually regrouping in Hawaii. After returning to Los Angeles in 2008 Lisa completed her Master's Degree in Psychology and was just shy of her PhD in Media Psychology in 2018, when she withdrew, relocating to Florida to look after her mother. Lisa's scenes from "The Decline Of Western Civilization 2", are featured in Rock N Roll Hall of Fame, having run since the opening in 1995. With a pending autobiography & You-Tube series to feature interviews with her infamous friends from the 1980's, Lisa's career is sure to see a resurgence in retro popularity in 2023!
