Actor Bio:

I was born in London, England and raised in Toronto, Canada. In 1978, I immigrated to the United States. I am a naturalized U.S. and Canadian citizen, and I was born a British subject. This year marks my 4th year performing as a character/ background actor in the Washington DC Baltimore area. This follows my retirement in 2006 from a wide-ranging career in international aviation as an aeronautical engineer.

I received a Master of Science degree in Engineering from Cranfield University in England, also a Master of Business Administration degree from the University of Missouri, in addition to a Diploma in Aerospace Engineering Technology from Ryerson University in Toronto.

I am a registered Professional Engineer in Canada, and hold both U.S. and Canadian Commercial Pilot's certificates. I was a candidate for the Canadian Astronaut Program. I was once Canadian Junior Hurdles Champion and played varsity football.

To pay for my education and flying lessons (when one could do so oneself), I (literally) made Corn Flakes at Kellogg's, drove a truck, worked as a Railway Brakeman and Conductor on freight and passengers trains in western Canada; did background for the CBC, and flew an Air-Taxi service in Toronto. As a graduate engineer, I joined Transport Canada and moved to Mojave, CA to flight-test the Bombardier regional jet aircraft. I subsequently relocated to Boeing, St Louis, MO on similar programs.

Upon, receiving my MBA, I became the founding Vice President and a Director of the Muriel McBrien Kauffman Foundation, a non-profit foundation for the Performing Arts in Kansas City, MO. The late Mrs. Kauffman was a well-known philanthropist and co-owner the Kansas City Royals Baseball Team.

I returned to aviation and joined the FAA in 1989. One of my most memorable times was my ability to participate and organize four Paris Air Shows for the FAA. In 2006, I retired from aviation.

I enjoy being on the set with actors and crew, "soaking it all up", and swapping stories.
